

WHEAT SUBSTITUTE LAW IN ARKANSAS CANCELED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 15. (Sp.)—J. P. Buchanan, chairman of the administration, announced late Wednesday that all food administration regulations in this state necessitating the use of wheat substitutes, whether by bakers, restaurants or housewives, were rescinded, effective immediately. Buchanan said that the regulations were rescinded because of the abundant supply of wheat and flour in the country and the necessity of conserving other foods, principally fats.

MENTAL SHIP RECRUITS SOUGHT

No Letup in Shipping Board's Plan Because of Armistice.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Orders to rush recruiting of men for the crews of merchant ships have been sent to agents of the shipping board in all parts of the country. "We shall want thousands of men for our fleet," Chairman Hurley said. "Our recruiting service and training ship will keep right on preparing men for jobs on merchant ships. The service is training at present 4,000 apprentices a month and we are planning to increase its output and the shipping board will continue until further notice to accept men between 18 and 35, inclusive, for training. We want to build up an all-American personnel for the great merchant marine." Shipyard also will continue their work with unabated energy except for the curtailment of overtime and Sunday work, the chairman said. There now are under construction in the United States for the board 724 ships, aggregating 3,500,000 deadweight tons. Four hundred of these are steel or concrete and the others wood. In addition, practically all the yards have contracts carrying them to the end of 1919, and the board has under consideration a further program for construction in 1920.

Expect Material Gain In Building Operations Here

"I look for material increase in residence construction now that all restrictions against building have been removed," said Dan Newton, building superintendent, said Thursday. "There are billions of feet of short-leaf pine lumber held in yards throughout the country that may be used for constructing residences and bungalows, and that is not excessive in price. Government requirements were for long-leaf pine timber for ships, etc. The embargo on building placed by the government was not designed primarily to save such material as goes into ordinary, medium-priced residences, but to conserve the production of metals, high-priced lumber and man power. If residence building had not been restricted, man power would have been greatly curtailed during the war. All restrictions against building operations up to $10,000 have been removed, according to telegraphic advices received by J. M. Fritchard, secretary of the American Hardware Manufacturers' association, from Gen. L. C. Boyle, its attorney in Washington. Buildings costing up to $25,000 may be constructed if permits are obtained from the State Council of Defense. Permits for building up to $10,000 may be procured from the building inspector at Memphis. Mayor Monteverde wired Washington late Wednesday, asking that all building restrictions be removed in order that normal construction work in Memphis might be resumed at an early date. He expects a reply within the next few days.

NONESSENTIAL WORK GIVEN FREE HAND

The government will call no more men from nonessential industries to take up war work, according to a telegram from John B. Denmore, director general of the federal employment service, forwarded to local labor officials by Dr. J. T. Ware, federal director for Tennessee. Denmore's telegram reads: "Control and responsibility for recruiting unskilled laborers for war work continues for the time being. Gradual curtailment of program probable. Much work continuing. 'Cease efforts to secure men from nonessential industries. Plans rapidly maturing indicate interdepartmental authorization for immediate national labor survey by community labor boards. 'Readjust your organization for the prompt finding of jobs for men leaving war industries. Notify your officers and all community labor boards.'"

CENTRAL HIGH TO SELL SANDWICHES SATURDAY

Teachers and pupils of Central high school will sell sandwiches, coffee and pies in the downtown section Saturday from noon until 2 o'clock, and during the football game at Russellwood park in the afternoon they will transfer their activities to those who attend the contest between Central high and Normal schools. The proceeds will go to the "earn and give" division of the united war work fund. The teachers at the school have organized teams among the high school pupils. There will be one teacher at the head of each team, which will be composed of 20 pupils. Central high is determined to "go over the top" and has planned this method of earning money to be contributed through the "earn and give" division.

CONWAY, Ark., Nov. 15. (Sp.)—News of the death in France of two more Faulkner county men has been received here by consular officers. The first, who was inducted here by the local exemption board in September, 1917, was killed in action on Nov. 4. He was trained at Camp Beauregard before his assignment with the overseas forces. The second man to die was Avery H. F. Quales, of Mount Vernon, who succumbed to pneumonia. Quales entered the service during the summer and his death occurred shortly after his arrival in France. ## SOLDIERS MUST HAVE CONTINUED PROTECTION

"There shall be no let-up in the war on vice in Memphis, now that the armistice for peace has been signed," declared Mayor Monteverde. This remark of the mayor was prompted by a telegram which he received from Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, asking that mayors of American cities continue the war on lewdness and the sale of liquor to soldiers of the United States army. The telegram follows: "Signaling of the armistice in no way lessens responsibility of civil communities to return the soldiers to their families and to civil life unaccompanied by disease. Laxity in our cities after so much has been done would be a disaster to our soldiers and their families." The mayor said he would urge Secretary Baker assuring him that the city would endeavor in every way to keep up the fight against lewdness and the third sale of liquor and throw every moral safeguard possible around the American soldiers by a strict enforcement of the law regarding these vices. The mayor said he also invites the co-operation of the citizens of Memphis in the city's efforts to repress vice.

"WHEN YOUR KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LUMPS OF LEAD"
When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overloads the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and leggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it is no longer irritating, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delicious, effervescent lithia-water drink.
